

July 2008

To our friends who are approaching their 5 year college reunion and feeling slightly shocked by this:

If you've read your mail lately, you know that Kalamazoo College will soon welcome us back for Homecoming Weekend, October 24 – 27, 2008. Some things have changed (Hicks! That was needed!) and other things have stayed the same (awesome profs and a rolling Arcadian hill). Can't you still hear Jimmy Jones twanging on about the fine Arcadian hill?

With the reunion just a few months away, know it is not too late to:

- Make your travel arrangements, and reserve a hotel room – check out the room blocks with special Homecoming rates posted at www.kzoo.edu/homecoming,
- Join the reunion committee and help plan the activities that will make our weekend great,
- Call/email/text/IM/stalk/Facebook your “K” friends and encourage them to attend Homecoming,
- Help locate our “lost” classmates (refer to the list accompanying this letter). FYI: Lost does not mean someone is literally lost. They know where they are. The College doesn't, though, and that keeps us from sending them stuff about the reunion.
- Share your reunion biography at www.kzoo.edu/homecoming. Even if you can't attend the reunion, share what's been going on with you! Toot your own horn! Strum your own banjo! Dance your own jig!

Enclosed you'll find a schedule of Homecoming weekend events. Some events are for all alumni and other events are just for our class. There are some great activities celebrating the 50th Anniversary of Study Abroad, including a program with the Deputy Director of the Peace Corps, and returning study abroad resident directors. We need help deciding what to do as a class, though—do people have ideas? How do you want to spend the time? Contact us! We want to make the weekend a fun time for all.

Watch your mailbox and the Homecoming website (www.kzoo.edu/homecoming) for more reunion information before October. Feel free to contact us in the meantime, though. We hope you will join us for what promises to be a fun weekend for our class! And maybe the football team will win.

Class of 2003 “Lost” Classmates:

Please take a minute to see if you are in contact with any of these folks. The College does not have these people’s current contact information so they’re not hearing about the reunion. If they would like to get their info updated, have them contact Sara (wienersara@gmail.com) or Sandy (sandra.dugal@kzoo.edu).
